eSmart
Smart. Safe. Responsible.

Online Terms and Conditions

Berrigan Shire Library Service is in the process of obtaining a nationally recognised status as an eSmart Library eSmart Libraries is a partnership between The Alannah and Madeline Foundation and Telstra. eSmart is a world-wide cyber safety program designed to better equip local libraries like ourselves, with the skills needed for a smart, safe and responsible community.

We will:

- Provide guidance to help you behave safely online
- Inform you how to get the best out of the online world
- Help you avoid cyber-risks such as scams and cyberbullying
- Promote the free flow of information and ideas in the interests of all visitors to our library.

How successful we are in this project depends largely on you, the user. Please read and understand the following guidelines on Internet use. Your co-operation will greatly assist us in providing you with a more rewarding and safer experience.

You are responsible for knowing the regulations and policies of the BSLS.

You are responsible for exercising good judgement in the use of BSLS's technological and information resources.

Any queries, please ask a staff member.

Photographs and Videos

The Berrigan Shire Library Service promote events using photographs for display and social media opportunities.

- * If you prefer not to be photographed/videographed, you may inform the photographer/videographer at the event.
- * Please inform staff if you or your children wish to be excluded from any photographs being taken at a library event.

Public Internet Guidelines and Conditions of Use for Children under 16 years of age.:

The Berrigan Shire Library Service provides a wide range of resources and services to meet the information, education, cultural, literacy and recreation needs of our community. These resources include Internet and Wifi access on personal devices.

- * Internet is an unregulated medium, and as such, children need to be protected from material that may be offensive or disturbing.
- * It is not the role of libraries to practice censorship.
- * Also we do not support the use of filtering or censorship technologies that block access to information.
- * It is the responsibility of Parents and Guardians to monitor their children's Internet access.

We wish to endorse the recommendations of eSmart and encourage all parents and guardians to read the following guidelines with your child/children, to ensure that they understand appropriate use of the Internet.:

Privacy Safeguards

All Internet use is logged for statistical purposes. Data provision assists the library service to continually maintain and improve Internet services. No information is collected to the detriment of individual privacy.

To provide equitable access, time limits and particular functions are displayed for each computer. You are asked to comply with these limits, for the benefit of all. Failure to do so, may result in your Internet access being curtailed.

Guidelines for dealing with inappropriate use of the Internet:

For the purposes of these guidelines, the term, 'inappropriate' refers to material that is not suitable for a community or public setting.

If a patron accesses inappropriate material on the Internet, the following steps will be taken;

- The patron will be verbally notified that viewing inappropriate material is not acceptable within our facilities. The patron will be asked to close the inappropriate material and warned that breach of our conditions may result in immediate withdrawal of membership privileges.
- If the patron ignores this verbal warning, staff will immediately close the session and the patron will be told to leave the library immediately, whether on public computers or personal Wifi.
- An Incident Report will be completed and the local police informed.
- If this patron is a library member, membership details will be recorded, a block placed on their membership card and details of incident noted on membership record.

Internet Access Policy

Berrigan Shire Library Service (BSLS) is committed to serving the information and recreation needs of the community. The Library Service strives to provide a welcoming environment, and provides free public access to the Internet and Wifi to support lawful access to information and services;

- Access to recreational materials
- Avenues for community engagement and participation
- Users are expected to abide by BSLS Internet Policy
- Library reserves the right to terminate Internet/Wifi access

This Policy follows the principles of the Australian Library and Information Association's Online Content Regulation statement and the Public Libraries NSW Network statement on Internet filtering and content regulation. Internet access and free Wifi use is available free of charge at all branches under the following conditions;

Copyright

Material found on the Internet may be protected by copyright.

Before using the Internet, you are asked to read the copyright Regulations which are located near the computers and photocopier.

Internet users are responsible for complying with all copyright and software licencing requirements and any relevant laws and legislation when accessing and /or printing material from the Internet.

Children and Young Adults

BSLS promotes and supports young people's access to information, including electronic information through its internet and Wifi facilities.

Library staff are available to assist young people in the use of the Internet and to recommend websites on particular subjects.

Parent's/legal guardians are responsible for monitoring access to the Internet for children under the age of 16 years. This is in accordance with library policy in regard to access to any library materials.

Appropriate Use

You must be sensitive to the values and beliefs of others when displaying potentially controversial information or images on computer screens located in public areas.

Where a patron is found to be using library computers to access pornographic, offensive material, or for any unlawful purpose, the library reserves the right to direct the patron to leave the library, to direct that the patron not re-enter the library for a specified period and to report unlawful conduct to the relevant authorities. If you encounter any instances of inappropriate use this should be reported immediately to library staff.

Patrons are responsible for closing down their website windows upon conclusion of the Internet session for security reasons. Library staff will assist with basic instructions in the use of library computers and Internet access, however, it is not the role of staff to offer detailed assistance or tuition.

Filtering

A public library has a role as an unbiased source of information and ideas, including online content. BSLS provides free access to materials and information, presenting as far as possible, all points of view on current and historical issues, including controversial issues.

The Library does not use censoring software as it prohibits free access to information and it does not provide adequate protection for children from all material that may be harmful on the Internet. BSLS strongly recommends all children be accompanied by an adult caregiver when using the Internet.

Risk Management

Privacy and confidentiality cannot be totally assured in the use of any online resources and the security of data and networks cannot be guaranteed. Computers are for general use and should not be regarded as secure. You should:

- Log out of services and refrain from entering highly sensitive information (i.e.; tax file numbers, banking details, etc)
- Assume responsibility for any loss of data, funds or identity theft that may result from the use of the Internet at the library
- Close down all web browser windows at end of session
- Not leave passwords on display.

Wireless Access

Communications over a wireless network are not secure. Information sent from or to a laptop can be captured by anyone else with a wireless device and appropriate software. You should be aware of the risk in using wireless access in the library.

If you use your own internet enabled devices, appropriate use of these devices and any associated behaviours within the library is governed by the Internet Access Policy.
