Reward your Mandarin Chinese learners with the help of AQA, the UK's leading provider of Languages qualifications

Many teachers and lecturers in the UK have already embraced the importance of studying Mandarin Chinese, seizing the chance to equip their students with a skill essential to our nation's future in the global marketplace.

Our high quality, flexible qualifications have been developed by experienced teachers who appreciate the value of rewarding students for their efforts and achievements.

Entry Level Certificate (ELC)

Accredits students working at the equivalent of National Curriculum Levels 1, 2 and 3.

Foundation Certificate of Secondary Education (FCSE)

Offers accreditation for students who have covered the equivalent of Levels 4, 5 and 6 of the National Curriculum.

ELC and FCSE are nationally recognised qualifications, which are versatile, flexible and manageable – a cost-effective way to motivate and reward students in the early stages of studying Mandarin Chinese.

GCSE

Our GCSE Mandarin Chinese specification is ideal for native and non-native speakers alike. Practising teachers have been involved at every step of the way in developing this accessible and up-to-date qualification.

All three AQA Mandarin Chinese specifications can be taken as stand-alone qualifications or can provide a coherent accreditation pathway as students progress through their studies.
