

It is with heavy hearts that we inform you of the passing of Thomas (Tom) Muldoon, past President & CEO of E.B. Horsman & Son, on November 3rd, 2017. Tom suffered a prolonged fight with lymphoma and needless to say, we will all miss him more than words can express. He was not just our President but our good friend as well.

For those of you that did not have the opportunity to know Tom, he was a feisty Irish Canadian who cared passionately for everyone at E.B. Horsman & Son, our electrical industry and the Horsman family. His caring nature, dignified presence and empowering approach to business helped everyone he worked with be just a little bit better every day.

Tom was appointed as President of E.B. Horsman & Son (EBH) in 1994 by George Horsman before becoming the company's only non-family partner in its 100+ year history. Tom played an instrumental role in defining our culture of excellence and modernizing EBH for a globally competitive environment.

"To me, and many others at EBH, he was so much more than the President of our company; he was a true mentor and friend," said Tim Horsman, President & CEO of E.B. Horsman & Son. "We were blessed to have had him take care of the company for many years and help us set the foundation upon which we grow today."
