

IA EVOLVE

The Premier Virtual Conference for Independent Agencies September 17, 2019

IA Evolve, scheduled for Tuesday, September 17th, promises to offer an efficient and cost-effective way to stay up to date with the latest developments affecting technology solutions and best practices for independent insurance agencies.

The IA Evolve Virtual Conference is open to both SIAA's thousands of member agencies and non-members. Anyone who is interested in the current and upcoming trends in technology that directly boost marketing, support sales, service clients or make gains on agency efficiencies should attend this conference.

Each session will be led by subject matter experts from the insurance industry. Attendees will be able to submit questions and interact with others throughout the day, either as part of the relevant session, at a tradeshow booth, scheduled chat, or peer to peer networking.

Why attend IA Evolve

Discover new solutions

Agenda and exhibit hall chocked-full of techniques, solutions and best practices designed to help grow your client base, revenue and your agency.

Grow your network

Connect and share ideas with thousands of independent agencies from coast to coast.

New technologies

Meet a wide range of exhibitors, showcasing technological developments in the insurance industry, and attend free workshops to improve your knowledge and gain practical knowledge.

It's Free

Conference registration is free to all independent agencies – SIAA members and non-members.

Visit iaevoive.com to learn more and/or register.

